

I have said this before in your presence that worship is a weapon that you will fight with. I have said this to you before that worship is the entrance into My presence. Be not deceived in this time because I still continue to woo you into My presence. I continue to woo you into My presence. Be not deceived. Do not allow the times to woo you to sleep where you become confused and start to be discouraged. Because know that in this time the enemy desires to sift you as wheat. But I have said to you before that worship is the weapon that you will use to prevail. In this hour said the Lord God of heaven worship is the weapon that you will use to prevail. Do not think that your intelligence, your education, or any material thing that you possess in this time will save you because this is the hour that My word declares is a perilous time where if you do not worship Me you will be sifted as wheat. But know that in this hour My Spirit continues to woo you, to woo you in My presence. My worship; that is what I desire from you this morning my children. Because when you worship, you create a canopy over your lives where the enemy cannot pierce. Worship is the desire of My heart said the Lord God of Heaven. Be not confused by the testimony of the world that continues to tell you that this is the hour where you are going to lose. It is a trap by the enemy to woo you in to places of sleepiness; to woo you into places where you will lose hope. But when you continue to worship in My presence it's the weapon, it is the only weapon that you will have to prevail in this hour. Do not allow your troubles to confuse you. Because know that even in hours when your life seems to be in confusion and out of control worship will bring clarity. Because it is a declaration that no other spirit will rule your life but My Spirit. So let nothing steal your worship. Let nothing steal your worship. Be encouraged.

Worship team

You are not mere singers. You are not mere singers. You are not mere instrumentalists. You are minstrels. You have been chosen to pierce the heavens with your worship. You have been chosen to pierce the heavens with your worship. Know that today is a new day in your lives that when you come in this house, you are not just here to entertain. You are not here just to be faceplates hanging on a wall. But you are here to pierce the heavens because this is a new hour says God where what you used to do will no longer suffice but you must pierce the heavens. You must pierce the heavens. Because there are principalities and powers, spiritual wickedness in high places where when you sing and you enter in you tear back the curtains and you open new doors of opportunity in the spirit. So know that today your assignment has changed. I'm calling you to a higher place. You are not mere singers but you are minstrels. Your assignment is to pierce the heavens; To sing a new spiritual song. Be not again hindered by your former experiences. Because even when you do not understand what you are singing or saying, know that you are singing mysteries in the spirit and these lives are dependent upon your worship. Because many are bound by spirits that they cannot explain but when you worship it will be lifted off their lives. So know that today the Lord calls you to a higher place. That when you come on this stage you are not here to entertain or be faceplates but you are here to pierce the heavens. So be encouraged.
